

CORE VALUE INDEX ASSESSMENT

Discover where your employees find meaning, enabling their highest and most productive contribution to your workplace.

WHAT IS CVI?

The Core Value Index (CVI) characterizes and measures a person's real core values nature. This is the essential self that Abraham Maslow asserted is the innate unchanging nature of a person that inscribes where a person can make their highest and most productive contribution to the world. It is the part of us that determines where we fit. It goes a step deeper than personality and behavioral based assessments such as Myers-Briggs, DiSC, Hogan and others to identify where a person finds meaning. It is the only assessment process that provides 94% repeat score reliability, year over year. Other assessments typically provide reliability between 60% and 80%.

HOW EMPLOYERS ARE USING IT

Employers have used the CVI in team settings as a way to become more familiar with each team members' values and most meaningful contribution, helping them work more effectively together. Employers have also used the CVI company-wide (including Vigilant) to get a good sense for the workforce as a whole, providing great insight into gaps that may exist which can inform training and recruiting needs. It is also an excellent tool for individual development.

HOW IT WORKS

The CVI assessment is taken online in about 10-minutes and results are delivered to your inbox right away. Debriefs and an exploration of implications are facilitated by a Vigilant CVI certified expert.

THE HISTORY OF CVI

The CVI was created by Lynn Ellsworth Taylor from Taylor Protocols while he worked in the fires of business turn-around projects for the purpose of connecting the innate nature of people with the tasks of their jobs.
